PREST. WOODRUFF'S ADDRESSES

that they may be imported to declare the words of salvation during this conference to their bethere and sisters which may Got grant, for Christ's sake, Amen.

Elder John Morgan.

There is peace in the midst of the Latter-day Baints. For this blessing we should be grateful that we live when the goosel has been revealed and that we have received the community. I bear testimony of the truth of Brother Woodraff's remarks. These principles will remain. They are the everlasting gauged that has always existed and will continue. They under the children of men together. In the end all men will know that God has gooken these things. It behoves the ciders and saints to be true and faithful and ware the inhabitiants of the earth of Judgments soon to come. It we do this our reward is sure. There is a great work to be performed in the mations: also, among the saints at home. The labors of a teacher are very important. They should chall up the saints. Some of the people compiain that they are mesiceted by the feachers. December they are devoted to femporal maters to forcelly links. They have received the decir. Appealed the children of the saints. They have received the decir. The author, Sing and the Lord, was sungle the cacher in the ward or Sunday school to attend to his duties. If he de them he shall reap joy and rejoicing. said. that these circumstances have called the Saints to believe that some great enock will open at that time—the years enock will open at that time—the year endowing the present. My statis in the matter is that whatever the Lord has in mind to accomplish in that year will be performed. It may be something, however, that would scareely create a ripple. The organization of the church of Jesus Christis of Latter-day Saints was one of the greatest events of the history of the world. It was confidence was no greater to-day than it was event of the history of the world. It was confidence was organized. The Lord had a regarded with six mombers, and but little was known concerning it even in the neighborhood where it occurred, at the time. Yet behold to what proportions the work then begun has grown. It may be that the greatness of what shall occur in 1891 will not be comprehended until succeeding years.

Pesident Woodraff.

I do not think anyone can tell the hour of the coming of the Son of Man. I think those things have been sufficiently revealed to us; so that we need not look for the time of that even to be made known. I will say here that in my dreams I have had a great many visits from the Prophet Joseph since his death. The last time I met him was in the spirit world. I met him at the Temple. He spoke to me. Calling me by name he said. Teannot stop to talk to you for I am in a hurry. I met Father Smith. He too said to me "I um in a hurry," I met a great many of the Apostles and others who are in the spirit world, and they all seemed to be in a hurry, in the Yould so the prophet of the Saints were conscienting the think and wondered very greating to the Saints were conscienting the twenty of the Apostles and others who are in the spirit world, and they all seemed to be in a hurry, in the Paradise of God. THEIR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. Will tell.

Louis Garff, of Lohl, runs another large general merchandise store under the opera house, carrying a stock which for variety and excellence is hard to beat. Mr. Garff is also owner and manager of the Lehl opera house and does everything in his power to get the best shows to be had for his patrons.

William Sunderland & Co., of Lehl, have a machine shop and foundry near the depot, the only first-class one in the north end of the valley. They handle all kinds of machinery and general merchandless store at Lehl Junction.

Couling down the valley three miles from Lehl, we arrive at

This town is situated in the centre of the district, with Lehi, Picasant Grove and Alpine is different directions, only a few miles separated kinds here, the following being the most prominent:

James Chipman, dealer in hardware, stoves, dry goods and general merchandise. This gentleman, besides running the largest store in the district, owns the hall used by all the accial clubs for dancing, and is very heavily interested in the mines up the American Fork canon. Ore has been found here in large quantities of a high grade, and when they get the proper machinery in, this will develop into one of the richest small camps in the territory.

American Fork Co-op., dealers in groceries, hardware and general merchandise. This is another large store, and thanks to the efficient management of Mr. Hunter, is one of the most successful.

management of Mr. Hunter, is one successful.

E. A. Henriod, surveyor and real estate dealer of American Fork, is one of the best known men in the county, and during the year transacts a larry amount of business. He can place your money in any kind of property for you to good investor to examine.

A. Dunkiey, dealer in general merohandise, is abother prominent man in the county, and one of the leaders in every movement to beneal; its citizens. His store is justify popular.

Alex. Miller, the proprietor of the Miller house, is well known by every one, and his hotel has the reputation of being the best in town.

Of course everybody knews W. D. Robinson, the mayor of American Fork, one of the most to William Grant's music emporium. But if In meed of furniture of any king, Hindley's store, opposite the Union Facific track, is the piace to go.

Dean & Co., of American Fork, also dealers to go to the Union of the Common of with its old farm houses and general cosy and contented appearance. The co-op store here is managed by Bishop McCallough, one of the oldest settlers and best known men in Utah three miles down the valley on the main line, is another beautiful and prosperous town, with over; thing necessary to the success of the terms and fruit grower at hand, rich lands and abundant water. Clark Brox, dealers in general merchandles here, are bright, energetic young men, who have by their personal labors established affect class business and are very inally popular. They also own and manage the operahouse, which for excellence of scenery and general neatness is away ahead of the usual house with stime.

Frank Heers the recruitary of the Pleasant Grove branch of the chamber of commerce, is another leading business man of this secution, he has everything in his store from a consistent to a paper collar. Taken all in all it would be difficult to find a mure genial and prosperous set of men than those named above, and I wish them all continued success and happiness.

and probably with truth, that "every Englishman dearly loves a lord;" and of late giishman dearly loves a lord;" and of late years this has been in a great measure also true of many Americans. And in the con viction that some such there may be amongst our readers, we will treat them to-day to the description of a wrap very recently completed by Redfern for a titled American, a lady who was once Miss Ward, of New York, but by intervention of a French husband, was transfermed nto the Princesse Caraman Chimay.

This wrap is a coat of pale grey veloutine, which is quive covered with an elaborate embroidery done in two shades of grey and a mixture of steel cords. Over the clear of the cords.

nto the Princesse Caraman Chimay.

This wrap is a coat of pale grey veloutine, which is quite covered with an elaborate embroidery done in two shades of grey and a mixture of steel cords. Over the close-fitting sleeves which are embroidered like the body of the coat, are hanging sleeves, set in with pleats on the shoulder, and bordered with bands of blue fox to give the effect of the graceful short closk worn by the Spanish students.

As it is Redfern's desire to complete a costume even to the very boots and shoes if the outstomer will allow, he has created a little hat to go with the above, which is here shown in the upper part of this sketch

It is a small low turban with a brim bent in curves over the forchead, and is made of velvet.several shades darker than the coat. A couple of narrow bands of silver tinsel ribbon are carelessly folded about the crown, and a small dovegrey bird perches at the back. The other model is a large hat of being colored felt, with a brim turned up closely at the back and flaring widely in the front. A double twist of greenat velvet wreathes the crown and there is besides, a full trimming of ostrich tips shading from the dark red to pale teacolor on the ends. One of these is curied under the brim to rest upon the halr.
